Dear Bob,

I had a note last Friday afternoon, 9 March, that you had called. I returned the call twice to your office and also left a message with your daughter at home that day, and have called and left messages at your office a couple of times this week too. The call was obviously not urgent, but I would be glad to hear about your visit to Newport and the latest news from the Naval War College.

It was very good to see you on your way north.

Sincerely,

/S/)
